

Dear Colleague:

On behalf of the Baltimore-Washington Chapter of the National Association of Securities Professionals (NASP) I extend a warm welcome to our fourth Emerging Manager Forum.

As you know, NASP is a national nonprofit membership-based organization of minority and female professionals in the securities industry. We bring together professionals who have achieved recognition in the industry as broker-dealers, asset managers, public finance consultants, investment bankers, bond counsel, commercial bank underwriters, investors, and plan sponsors.

The organization serves as a resource for its members and others in the industry by: sharing information about the securities markets; functioning as a repository for information regarding current trends; and sponsoring educational seminars and networking opportunities. NASP, including Baltimore - Washington, now has a total of eight chapters across the country. The organization's seven other chapters are based in Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, Houston, New York, and Philadelphia.

The goal of our Emerging Manager Forum is to exchange ideas and information to enhance the awareness of our members and to provide the highest quality of fiduciary education. We appreciate your participation in the Forum and thank you for being here to exchange ideas with your peers.

I look forward to working with you in the future as our chapter grows, and I invite you to join us and get involved in our future programs. We strive to meet your professional development needs so that you can better serve the financial needs of your clients.

*My Best,
Aileen T. Rappaport
President*
